

SANDQVIST

FW22 | Above the Treeline

The Sandqvist Fall Winter 2022 collection takes you up the mountain and above the treeline, through the gradual transition where trees grow shorter and often at lower densities and suddenly they cease to exist. The color palette comes from the windswept mountain birch and its changing color through the seasons.

The tree line is mystic, beautiful and has a special symbolic value for us. On a clear day above the treeline you get a great view and perspective. It is a place for stillness and reflection. But the weather above the tree line is unpredictable, a calm sunny day can change to a storm in minutes. So it's also a place for determination and action. The tree line is a mythical boundary that has many faces. It's a line we always love to cross.
